In response to your message from 4/23, yes there have been no responsive emails located since the April 15th production. As a reminder, City staff is dedicating approximately 10 hours per week triaging all of your requests, in addition to their regular duties serving and protecting the community. Due to limited staff resources and the volume of records involved in your multiple requests, the City is unable to provide a definitive completion date at this time. Staff will continue processing this request (and all others) and will provide responsive records on a rolling basis as they become available.

We will further respond to your request with updates no later than May 20th.

Captain Maravillas,

Thank you for the update. The most recent message indicated continued rolling production but did not include any responsive documents. I'm attaching a screenshot of my portal view to assist with any troubleshooting of file availability.

A few questions so I can calibrate expectations on my end:

1. Was the zero-document batch intentional — i.e., is the City's position that no responsive records were identified for the interval since the April 15 production?
2. What is the estimated remaining volume still to be produced (pages, documents, or batch count)?
3. What is the current estimated completion date for the full response?

Rough ranges are fine if precise figures aren't yet available.

Thanks,
Brian
