DANVILLE (BCN)

A Bay Point man was arrested Thursday morning in Danville after the allegedly stolen vehicle he was driving passed by an automated license plate reader, according to police.

"This was a situation where having the technological assistance of the ALPR allowed our officers to pinpoint their search for this stolen vehicle, recover that vehicle, and take a criminal into custody," police Chief Allan Shields said in a statement.

information. They also found airsoft weapons that appeared to be real firearms and a BB gun.

Sullivan has been booked into jail on suspicion of possession of a stolen car, possession of stolen property, possession of burglary tools, burglary and identity theft.
