Hi Tricia,

Absolutely - I had finance put together this table. This would be the penalty assuming you cancel before any invoices have been paid.

I want to reiterate as well that the first two years given for free on the contract are truly free but also based on a commitment to the rest of the contract term. Which is why we have the MSRP termination clause.

It's different than a "free trial" which we would only normally do for (30-60) days with no contract commitment.

Let me know if you have any more questions on this - happy to chat through next week as well.

Thank you,
Tierney

Hi Tierney,
Thank you for sending over the revised quote with the additional language.
We need to be able to explain how much the City would potentially be on the hook for in the event we wished to exercise the termination clause.
I can't tell from the table below what is hardware and what is services – are you able to help explain?
Thanks so much,
Tricia
