OVERVIEW

The Henrico County Police Division uses Flock Safety technology to capture objective evidence without compromising individual privacy. Henrico Police use retroactive searches to solve crimes after they have occurred. Additionally, Henrico Police utilize real-time alerting of hotlist vehicles and wanted persons status to recover or capture suspected criminals. This technology is also used to locate missing/endangered persons or persons associated with human trafficking. Henrico Police maintain compliance with Virginia State Law (2.2-5517). In an effort to ensure that proper usage and guardrails are in place, we have made the policies and usage statistics below available to the public.
