SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: A challenge one of our partners encountered was staffing the ORT task force with enthusiastic and devoted officers. In response to this challenge, our agencies have identified a group of officers and sergeants who are enthusiastic and devoted to our multi-agency ORT Task Force. This group offers the potential for our departments to invest in concentrated training, experience, and resources to grow our ability to combat ORT. Our agencies have also experienced a challenge with executing our multi-agency MOU, which slows down individual partners' procurement of grant-funded items. In response, our multi-agency MOU should be executed during the next QPR, allowing all partners to procure items funded by this grant.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: During this reporting period, our multi-agency ORT Task Force had a successful deployment that led to approximately 40 arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses. Overall, our shopping centers and retailers have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: Incidents (10), Arrests (15) and DA referrals (15). Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls. Full-time FTE times are calculated based on total on-scene time for each ORT adjacent or MVT/MVAT incident plus a one-hour estimation on cases that resulted in DA referrals (referrals include arrests) per case due to additional time needed for staff to complete required documentation and investigative steps for cases that result in an arrest or referral.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: DCPD is experiencing delays in the hiring process for the CSO and grant administrator positions due to extensive background processes that must be completed. They have also noticed delays with permitting and installation of their ALPR technology. They are working to address hiring issues and do plan to have a Grant Administrator in place early in Q3 and hire a CSO shortly thereafter and are working with their ALPR vendor to increase the permitting and installation process to ensure this equipment is installed in a timely manner. SMPD has faced several challenges including convincing retailers to follow-through on reporting crimes as well as ensuring that staff log cases using the most appropriate penal code section (490.4) for retail theft cases. During data QA discussions it was discovered that there have been several cases taken during this quarter that were listed as crimes other than ORT, and SMPD needs to work with staff to go back and make sure appropriate changes are made. Additionally, having the capacity to conduct follow-up investigative work for ORT cases has been a challenge. There is a large amount of work needed to hold ORT crews accountable, and our detective bureau has had limited capacity to take on these cases. SMPD is still working to identify a reasonable and streamlined process to ensure follow-up work is done. The partners are working together to develop training to assure their staff logs cases using the most appropriate penal code sections for incidents of theft and organized retail theft.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: During this reporting period, our multi-agency ORT Task Force had successful deployments that led to approximately 48 arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses, and 46 case referrals to the DA's Office due to some cases involving multiple arrests. Overall, our shopping centers and retailers have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: Cases (9), Arrests (19) and DA referrals (9). Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: DCPD is experiencing delays in the hiring process for the CSO position due to extensive background processes that must be completed. DCPD is working to address the hiring issue and plans to have a CSO in place in Q4.
   SMPD noticed through their on-going communication with retailers, that they greatly appreciate having marked patrol cars parked in front of or nearby their stores. SMPD regularly does this with one surplus car from the patrol fleet, but there are not sufficient cars to do this with all requesting retailers.
   All agencies have noticed delays with the permitting and installation of their ALPR technology. We are working with our ALPR vendor to increase the permitting and installation process to ensure this equipment is installed in a timely manner. We are also all experiencing issues with CIBRS in relation to reporting.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: During this reporting period, DCPD, SBPD, and SMPD continued to communicate and build strong relationships with retailers and their loss prevention staff. This had led to successes with arrests of prolific ORT suspects and crews. Our multi-agency ORT Task Force had successful deployments that led to approximately 54 arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses, and 43 case referrals to the DA's Office due to some cases involving multiple arrests. Overall, our shopping centers and retailer partners have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT-adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: Cases (34), Arrests (35) and DA referrals (23). Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.
   Description: For this reporting period, officers from all three agencies were deployed with a different schedule, working two days at a time, to allow for more instances of ORT Task Force coverage throughout the three cities. The officers reported that they preferred the four-day deployment schedule, as it allowed for greater consistency and flow in the work and with their partners.

   DCPD have noticed delays with the permitting and installation of their ALPR technology. We are working with our ALPR vendor to increase the permitting and installation process to ensure this equipment is installed in a timely manner.

   One challenge SBPD is facing is that CIBRS continues to change, affecting which laws can be charged or reported. The agency is collaborating with the DA's Office and internal supervisors to ensure that officers receive proper training.

   Through ongoing communications with retailers, SMPD has learned that retailers highly value the presence of marked patrol cars parked in front of or near their stores. SMPD currently uses one surplus car from the patrol fleet for this purpose; however, there are not enough cars to accommodate all requesting retailers.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments during the current reporting period.

   Description: We were pleased to host the BSCC Field Representative during one of our ORT Task Force deployments in Q4. We appreciate the ongoing support from BSCC toward our ORT operations.

   Regarding hiring, DCPD had completed the extensive background check processes and onboarded the Community Service Officer in Q4.

   During this evaluation period, SMPD was able to deploy two surveillance camera trailers, funded by the grant, as well as another surveillance camera trailer, at ORT hot spots. The anecdotal observation was that these may have deterred instances of theft as it seemed like theft cases were down compared to recent quarters. Additionally, mall security staff were interested in the trailers and expressed interest in purchasing their own to deploy in different locations at their malls.

   DCPD, SBPD, and SMPD continued to communicate and build strong relationships with retailers and their loss prevention staff. This led to success with arrests of prolific ORT suspects and crews. Since the inception of our multi-agency ORT Task Force, we have had successful deployments that led to approximately 178 arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses, and 158 case referrals to the DA's Office due to some cases involving multiple arrests. Overall, our shopping centers and retailer partners have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT-related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT-adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: Cases (29), Arrests (46) and DA referrals (26). Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.
   Description: DCPD is still experiencing delays with ALPR camera installations due to supply chain issues, installer availability, and permitting challenges. The agency is working closely with the vendor to attempt to get the remaining cameras installed in the coming quarter.

   One challenge SBPD is facing is the ongoing changes to CIBRS, which affect what laws can be charged or reported. In Q5, the agency continued to collaborate with the DA's Office and internal supervisors to ensure that officers receive proper training.

   SMPD collaborated with the Hillsdale Mall ownership group to finalize preparations for a police substation and to make it accessible to the public. One challenge encountered was securing an internet connection. The mall ownership was very helpful in coordinating with AT&T to finalize this necessity, allowing SMPD staff to access the department's network and complete reports at the substation.

In the previous quarter, officers from all three agencies worked on a two-day deployment schedule, which was not ideal for maintaining consistency and coordination among the task force group. However, in Q5, partners returned to a four-day schedule that facilitated greater consistency and improved workflow among the agencies and retail partners. Officers reported a preference for the four-day schedule.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments during the current reporting period.

   Description: During the holiday shopping season, DCPD and SMPD staffed details at major shopping malls with their jurisdictions.

   SMPD opened the substation at the Hillsdale Mall in time for Thanksgiving and the holiday season. This substation, staffed part-time by Community Service Officers, served as a space for officers to visit, complete reports, and conduct high-visibility patrols, etc. The substation received a number of visitors, from mall patrons as well as mall tenants, and received positive feedback. Additionally, SMPD staffed a detail using department funds, for two officers to conduct high-visibility patrols at Hillsdale Mall during the holiday shopping season. On the days that the detail was staffed, officers were busy responding to calls and making theft-related arrests.

   Moreover, RDA Consulting conducted – and SMPD helped coordinated - focus groups during this reporting period. Participants included members of the ORT task force, loss prevention staff, and community members from the three jurisdictions. Overall, while participants observed a decline in ORT, MVT, and MVAT incidents, these remain an issue. A positive outcome of the ORT grant collaboration was the strengthened partnerships among the three jurisdictions, the DA's Office, and retailers. Participants highlighted the increased usage and enhancement of technology, along with increased outreach and education for retailers, loss prevention, and the public as opportunities for improvement.

   The ongoing efforts of the three agencies to communicate and maintain strong relationships with retailers and their loss prevention staff have led to success with arrests of prolific ORT suspects and crews. Since the beginning of the grant, our multi-agency ORT Task Force had successful deployments that led to approximately 229 arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses, and 199 case referrals to the DA's Office due to some cases involving multiple arrests. Overall, shopping centers and retailer partners within our jurisdictions have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero-theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: Cases (29), Arrests (33) and DA referrals (15). Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well any as efforts to overcome the challenges.
   Description: One challenge that DCPD faced in Q6 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage.

   SMPD experienced delays in deploying ALPR cameras in Q6 due to permitting issues. The agency is working closely with the City of San Mateo and the State to obtain the necessary permits for installing the remaining cameras in the upcoming quarters.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments during the current reporting period.
   Description: DCPD experienced delays in ALPR camera installations over the past few quarters due to supply chain issues, installer availability, and permitting challenges. Those issues have since been resolved, and the last tranche of cameras was successfully installed in Q6. All the grant-funded ALPRs are now operational.

   During this reporting period, the collaboration and partnership between grant partners and loss prevention (LP) were effective. For each deployment, partner agencies ensured that most retailers were represented at the briefing, allowing officers and LP agents to align their tactics and strategies in the field. Additionally, information sharing between law enforcement and retailers was effective. Several LP agents conducted extensive investigations into ORT crews and shared information with their law partners prior to task force deployments.

   The ongoing efforts of the three agencies to communicate and maintain strong relationships with retailers and their loss prevention staff have led to success with arrests of prolific ORT suspects and crews. Since the beginning of the grant, our multi-agency ORT Task Force had successful deployments that led to approximately arrests for ORT-adjacent offenses, and 237 case referrals to the DA's Office due to some cases involving multiple arrests. Overall, shopping centers and retailer partners within our jurisdictions have welcomed our ORT Task Force, and some have participated in our zero-theft tolerance days, strengthening our collaborative efforts to combat ORT.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 17 Cases, 18 Arrests and 14 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 84 prior theft cases with arrests and 5 prior motor vehicle theft cases with arrests in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well as any efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: One challenge that both DCPD and SMPD faced in Q7 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: DCPD is establishing a Real-Time Information Center and has begun staffing it with new and existing staff. Crime Analysts were hired in Q7; onboarding and training will continue into the next reporting period. Staff will receive further training in Q8 at the National Real Time Crime Center Association Conference. During this reporting period, SMPD was able to utilize its DFR program and flew a drone for several of the deployments. The drone assisted with several apprehensions during this reporting period. The use of the drone allowed officers to remain out of sight while providing critical intel on suspects leaving the location of the theft. The drone was also able to provide information on the direction of travel as suspects fled the store in different stores.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT-adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 11 Cases, 14 Arrests and 8 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 68 prior theft cases with arrests and 0 prior motor vehicle theft cases with arrests in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls.

   Description: One challenge that both DCPD and SMPD faced in Q8 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

Description: DCPD is establishing a Real-Time Intelligence Center and has begun staffing it with new and existing staff. Onboarding and training for Crime Analysts continued in Q8. During Q8, SMPD was able to utilize its DFR program and flew a drone (non-grant funded) for several of the deployments. The drone assisted with several apprehensions during this reporting period. The use of the drone allowed officers to remain out of sight while providing critical intel on suspects leaving the location of the theft. The drone was also able to provide information on the direction of travel as suspects fled the store in different stores.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 16 Cases, 15 Arrests, and 12 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 43 prior theft cases with arrests and 1 prior motor vehicle theft cases with arrests in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls. Regarding property recovery, please note that the estimate provided for ORT reflects the total value of properties recovered by all three partner agencies during grant-funded ORT task force deployments. For MVT/MVAT, the estimate includes vehicles recovered from both grant-funded and non-grant-funded ALPRs.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well as any efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: One challenge that both DCPD and SMPD faced in Q9 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: The DCPD installed the video wall in its Real Time Intelligence Center (RTIC) in this reporting period.

During ORT Task Force deployments in Daly City, DCPD staff collaborated with retailers and provided intelligence to officers through the Drone First Responder (DRF) program and multiple law enforcement systems. SMPD also used its drones during operations within its jurisdiction. The integration of DRF programs and Real Time Intelligence Centers has proven effective for ORT Task Force deployments.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 5 Cases, 6 Arrests, and 2 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 45 prior theft cases with arrests and 0 prior motor vehicle theft cases with arrests in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls. Regarding property recovery, please note that the estimate provided for ORT reflects the total value of properties recovered by all three partner agencies during grant-funded ORT task force deployments. For MVT/MVAT, the estimate includes vehicles recovered from both grant-funded and non-grant-funded ALPRs.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well as any efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: One challenge that both DCPD and SMPD faced in Q10 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: During ORT Task Force deployments in Daly City, DCPD staff collaborated with retailers and provided intelligence to officers through the Drone First Responder (DRF) program and multiple law enforcement systems. SMPD also used its drones during operations within its jurisdiction. The integration of DRF programs and Real-Time Intelligence Centers has proven effective for ORT Task Force deployments.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 10 Cases, 7 Arrests, and 6 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 26 prior theft cases with arrests and 0 prior motor vehicle theft cases with arrests in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls. Regarding property recovery, please note that the estimate provided for ORT reflects the total value of properties recovered by all three partner agencies during grant-funded ORT task force deployments. For MVT/MVAT, the estimate includes vehicles recovered from both grant-funded and non-grant-funded ALPRs.

SECTION F: Challenges and Highlights

1. Challenges: Describe the challenges encountered during the reporting period, as well as any efforts to overcome the challenges.

   Description: One challenge that both DCPD and SMPD faced in Q11 was staffing the ORT Task Force due to an ongoing staffing shortage. SMPD patrol staffing decreased slightly in Q11, and the department made several adjustments in order to staff the ORT operations. Another challenge during ORT blitz operations was the limited number of theft-related incidents during some of the details. Several deployments resulted in only one or two theft-related calls. On those days, the teams pivoted to motor vehicle theft-related issues and followed up on arrest warrants associated with ORT-related crimes.

2. Project Highlights. Describe any highlights and/or accomplishments that occurred during the current reporting period.

   Description: During ORT Task Force deployments in Daly City, DCPD staff collaborated with retailers and provided intelligence to officers through the Drone as First Responder (DRF) program and multiple law enforcement systems. SMPD also used its drones during operations within its jurisdiction. The integration of DRF programs and Real-Time Intelligence Centers has proven effective for ORT Task Force deployments.

SECTION G: Additional Narrative

1. Additional Narrative. Please provide any additional information necessary to detail the project's progress during the reporting period. Any additional information that is project specific, which may help inform project progress, may be included here. If providing additional details in reference to a section within this report, please cite relevant sections.

   Description: On Metrics for ORT and MVT/MVAT: There currently exists a challenge in the literature regarding the most appropriate way of measuring ORT at any point prior to the prosecutorial decision to pursue a case with an ORT related charge. Due to this conceptual challenge and faced with the need to calculate short-term statistics that may be collected at the moment of occurrence or shortly thereafter, we interpret ORT and MVT/MVAT aggregate figures as potential incidents/arrests/referrals related to ORT and MVT/MVAT. An alternative interpretation could also be ORT-adjacent or MVT/MVAT adjacent events. Incidents were calculated using CAD calls with call types that were related to the category in question. Any incidents that were communicated to the police departments through alternative avenues are not included in these estimates. In order to most appropriately count cases and arrests related to ORT, we implemented textual analysis that interpreted in case/arrest charge description fields terms closely associated with retail theft, grand/petty theft, and shoplifting. Additionally, we cross-checked these numbers with the specific charge numbers associated with those calls. Similarly, for MVT/MVAT, we identified the case/arrest charge descriptions that were related to vehicle theft, vehicle accessory theft, and tampering with vehicles. Throughout this reporting process and hereafter, we will continue to analyze the methodology used to count these events for reliability and consistency. Acknowledging the challenges mentioned above, we include below some additional numbers that refer to the specific number of arrests and referrals made with an Organized Retail Theft charge: 10 Cases, 13 Arrests, and 6 DA referrals. Additionally, there were 38 prior theft cases with arrests and 1 prior motor vehicle theft case with arrest in this reporting period. Incidents for ORT-specific numbers were calculated using the total number of cases with offenses specifically related to ORT and are not calculated using CAD incoming calls. Regarding property recovery, please note that the estimate provided for ORT reflects the total value of properties recovered by all three partner agencies during grant-funded ORT task force deployments. For MVT/MVAT, the estimate includes vehicles recovered from both grant-funded and non-grant-funded ALPRs.
